SUNDAY.

PSALM I. Rochel Tune.

1. THE man is bleſt that hath not lent to ill advice his ear;
Nor led his life as ſinners do,
nor ſate in th' Scorner's chair;

2. But in the law of God the Lord doth place his whole delight;
And in that law doth exerciſe
himſelf both day and night.

3. He ſhall be like the tree that near the river's ſide doth grow;
Which in due ſeaſon fails not, fair
and kindly fruit to ſhew.

4. Whoſe leaf ſhall never fade nor fall,
but flouriſh always green,
Ev'n ſo ſhall all things this man does,
be ever proſp'rous ſeen.

Psalm IV. London Tune.

1. O God, thou art my righteouſneſs,
Lord, hear me when I cry:
Thou me at liberty haſt ſet,
from bonds and miſery.

2. Have mercy therefore on me, Lord,
and grant me my requeſt;
For unto thee continually
to cry I will not reſt.

3. O mortal men, how long will ye my glory thus deſpiſe?
Why wander ye in vanity,
and follow after lies?

4. Know ye, that good and virtuous men,
the Lord doth always chuſe:
And when to him I make complaint,
he will not me refuſe.

Or the hundred Pſalm.

Psalm VIII. St. David's Tune.

1. O Lord our God, how wonderful is ev'ry where thy name:
Thy Glory thou haſt ſet above
the Heavens curious frame.

2. Ev'n by the mouth of ſucking babes thou wilt confound thy foes;
For in thoſe babes thy might is ſeen,
thy Graces they diſcloſe.

3. And when I ſee the Heavens high the works of thine own hand;
The Sun, the Moon, and all the Stars,
in order as they ſtand;

4. Lord, what is Man, think I, to have in thy kind thoughts a place!
Why doſt thou thus advance and bleſs
his miſerable race?

Psalm IX. Exeter Tune.

1. With heart and mouth unto the Lord
I will give laud and praiſe:
And ſpeak of all his wondrous works,
and them declare always.

2. I will be chearful and rejoice in thee, O God, moſt high:
And in my ſongs extol thy name
above the ſtarry Sky.

3. Becauſe my foes are driven back,
and quickly put to flight,
They all ſhall fall, and be deſtroyed
by thy great power and might.

4. Thou haſt maintain'd my right, & ſhewn
how true and juſt it was:
And from thy ſeat of judgment haſt determined my cauſe.

SUNDAY II.

PSALM XV. Martyr's Tune.

1. WITHIN thy tabernacle, Lord, who ſhall inhabit ſtill?
Or whom wilt thou receive to dwell
on thy moſt holy hill?

2. The man whoſe life is uncorrupt, whoſe works are juſt and right;
Whoſe heart doth ſeek and love the truth,
whoſe tongue ſpeaks no deceit.

3. Who to his neighbour does no wrong,
in body, goods, or name:
Nor any ſlanders falſly ſpreads,
to hurt his brother's faine.

4. Who unto vile and ſinful men
no favour does afford:
But ſhews all honour unto thoſe,
that fear and ſerve the Lord.

PSALM XVI. Canterbury Tune.

7. I Thank the Lord, who cauſed me to underſtand the right:
And who hath made my ſecret thoughts
to teach me every night.

8. Still in my ſight I ſet the Lord,
and truſt him above all:
For he on my right hand doth ſtand,
therefore I ſhall not fall.

9. My heart ſhall for this cauſe be glad,
my Glory ſhall rejoice;
My body alſo reſt in hope
of riſing at his voice.

10. For, Lord, thou ſhalt not leave my ſoul for ever in the grave:
But wilt at length thy holy one
from his corruption ſave.

11. Thou me the way of life wilt teach,
and how I may arrive
At that bleſt place, where endleſs Joy thou to thy ſaints will give.

PSALM XIX. St. James's Tune.

1. THE heavens which the Lord hath made his Glory to declare:
The firmament doth ſhew how great his works of wonder are.

2. Each day unto another doth his mighty deeds confeſs:
And every night unto the next
his Glory doth expreſs.

3. There is no language, tongue, or ſpeech,
no place inhabited:
No land but where their ſound is heard,
and where their voice is ſpread.

DOXOLOGY.

To Father, Son, and Holy Ghoſt,
immortal Glory be:
As was, is now, and ſhall be ſtill
to all Eternity.

Or the hymn Benedicite.

PSALM XIX. Part II. York Tune.

7. HOW perfect is the law of God?
how ſure his covenant?
Converting ſouls, and making wiſe
the Poor and ignorant.

8. Juſt are the Lord's commandments all,
cleanſing the heart and mind:
His precepts pure, enlightning thoſe
whoſe eyes before were blind.

9. The fear of him doth never fail
the ſpirit to renew:
And all the judgments of the Lord
moſt righteous are and true.

10. They are of greater value far than gold without allay;
The honey and the honey-comb,
are not ſo ſweet as they.

11. For we by them are taught to what we ought to have regard:
And in obſervance of the ſame
ſhall find a great reward.

SUNDAY III.

PSALM XIX. Part III. Norwich Tune.

12. O Lord, what man exactly knows the errors of his ways?
Then cleanse me from my secret faults,
and keep me all my days.

13. That no presumptuous sins may get dominion over me:
So shall I from the great offence
be innocent and free.

14. Then shall the off'ring of my mouth
be pleasing in thy sight:
For thou alone my Saviour art,
O Lord, thou God of might.

DOXOLOGY.

To Father, Son, and Holy Ghost,
immortal Glory be:
As was, is now, and shall be still
to all Eternity.

Or Psalm 113.

PSALM XXIII. Canterbury Tune.

1. MY ſhepherd is the living Lord,
therefore I nothing need:
In paſtures fair, near waters calm,
he placeth me to feed.

2. He did convert and glad my ſoul,
and put my mind in frame,
To walk in paths of righteouſneſs,
for his moſt holy name.

3. Yea, tho' I walk in vale of death,
Yet will I fear no ill;
Thy rod and ſtaff do comfort me,
and thou art with me ſtill.

4. And in the preſence of my foes,
my table thou ſhalt ſpread:
Thou ſhalt, O Lord, fill full my cup,
thou ſhalt anoint my head.

5. Through all my life thy favour is ſo freely ſhewn to me;
That in thy houſe for evermore
my dwelling-place ſhall be.

PSALM XXIV. Exeter Tune.

3. WHO is the man, O Lord, that ascend into thy hill? [shall Or come into thy holy place,
there to continue still?

4. Ev'n he whose hands are clean, whose no spots of sin defile: [heart Whose soul is free from vanity;
who hath not sworn with guile.

5. On such a man as this, the Lord
his blessings will bestow:
And God to him for evermore
his righteousness will show.

PSALM XXV. Southwell Tune.

1. I Lift my heart to thee,
my God and guide moſt juſt;
Suffer me then to take no ſhame,
for in thee do I truſt.

2. Let not my foes rejoice,
or make a ſcorn of me;
And let them not be overthrown,
who put their truſt in thee.

3. But ſhame ſhall thoſe befal who hate me without cauſe, Diſcover therefore to me, Lord,
thy paths and righteous laws.

4. Direct me in thy truth,
and make my goings ſtraight:
For thou my God and Saviour art,
on thee I always wait.

SUNDAY IV.

PSALM XXV. Part II. Southwell Tune.

10. FOR thy moſt holy name,
O Lord, I thee intreat
To grant me pardon for my ſins,
which are exceeding great.

11. Whoſo doth fear the Lord,
the Lord will him protect:
And in the moſt accepted way,
his footſteps will direct,

12. His ſoul ſhall evermore
with eaſe and joy be bleſt:
And when he dies, theſe bleſſings ſhall
upon his children reſt.

PSALM XXVIII. Rochel Tune.

6. TO render thanks unto the Lord
how great a cauſe have I;
Who hath my ſupplication heard
ſo ſoon and willingly!

7. He is my ſhield, my ſtrength and might,
my buckler in diſtreſs;
My hope, my help, my heart's relief:
my ſong ſhall him confeſs.

8. He is our guard, and ſtrong defence
againſt the enemy:
The health and ſafety of all thoſe
that on his truth rely.

9. Thy people and thine heritage,
O Lord, guide and preſerve:
And ſo confirm them in the way,
that they may never ſwerve.

PSALM XXX. St. Mary's Tune.

ALL laud and praiſe with heart and [voice,
O Lord, I give to thee:
Who haſt not made my foes rejoice,
but haſt exalted me.

2. O Lord, my God, to thee I cry'd
in my diſtreſs and grief;
And to my cry thou didſt attend,
and ſend me quick relief.

3. Of thy good will thou haſt vouchſaf'd
my ſoul from death to ſave:
And haſt preſerv'd my life from ſtrait
deſcending to the grave.

4. Sing praiſe, ye ſaints, and magnify
the goodneſs of the Lord:
In mem'ry of his holineſs,
rejoice with one accord.

5. For why? His anger is but ſhort,
and gives not laſting pain;
But in his favour life and joy
eternal ſhall remain.

PSALM XXXIV. London Tune.

11. COme unto me, ye upright men, unto my words give ear:
And I'll direct you in the way,
how ye the Lord ſhall fear.

12. Who is the man that long would live and lead a bleſſed life;
Let him refrain his lips and tongue
from all deceit and ſtrife.

13. Let him keep back from doing ill,
and always walk upright:
Let peace and truth, and virtuous
be always his delight. [deeds

14. For God's all-ſeeing eyes behold continually the juſt;
His ears are open to the pray'rs
of thoſe that in him truſt.

Or Pſalm 148.

SUNDAY V.

PSALM XXXVII. Norwich Tune.

1. FRET not thyſelf at wicked men, or their ungodly gains:
Nor envious be, for all the wealth
they get by ſinful means.

2. For as the tender graſs is cut,
and withers ſoon away;
So ſhall their great proſperity
fade quickly and decay.

3. But put thy truſt in God the Lord,
To virtue give thy mind:
So ſhalt thou bleſſed be on earth,
and plenty in it find.

Or the Te Deum.

PSALM XXXVII. York Tune.

23. THE Lord the juſt man's way doth [guide, and gives him good ſucceſs:
And whatſo'er he takes in hand,
he doth him in it bleſs.

24. And tho' he fall, yet ſhall he not be wholly caſt away:
Becauſe the Lord with his own hand
will him ſupport and ſtay.

25. I have been young, and now am old,
yet did I never ſee
The juſt forſaken, or his ſeed
expos'd to miſery.

26. He freely gives, of what he has,
and lends to them that need:
And God his charity repays
to him and to his ſeed.

27. Therefore all wickedneſs avoid,
and virtuous ways embrace:
So God ſhall grant thee long to have on earth thy dwelling-place.

PSALM XXXIX. Windſor Tune.

5. LORD, let me muſe upon the days, which yet I have not paſt!
That ſo I may conſider well
how ſhort my life may laſt.

6. Lord, thou haſt pointed out my life,
in length much like a ſpan;
Mine age is nothing unto thee;
ſo vain a thing is man.

7. Man paſſeth like a ſhade, and doth in vain himſelf employ In getting goods, and cannot tell who ſhall the ſame enjoy.

8. Wherefore, ſince ſuch is my eſtate, what ſhall I more deſire?
O let my hope be fix'd on thee;
I nothing elſe require.

PSALM XXXIX. St. Mary's Tune.

11. O Lord, remove from me thy ſcourge,
I cannot it withſtand:
I am conſum'd, and faint by means of thy moſt heavy hand.

12. When thou for ſin doſt man rebuke,
his beauties fade and die:
Like garments fretted with the moth,
ſuch is man's vanity.

13. Lord, at my tears hold not thy peace,
but to my cries give ear:
For I a ſtranger with thee am,
as all my fathers were.

14. O ſpare a little, ſpare me, Lord, till time my ſtrength reſtore:
Before I go away from hence,
and ſhall be ſeen no more.

SUNDAY VI.

PSALM XLII. London Tune.

1. LIKE as the hunted hart doth pant to find a cooling ſpring; So doth my longing ſpirit faint,
for thee my God and King.

2. My ſoul doth thirſt, and would unto the living God draw near:
O when ſhall I before him go,
and in his ſight appear?

3. The tears which from my eye-lids fall,
are day and night my food:
While wicked men in ſcoffing call,
ah, where is now thy God?

4. When upon this I call to mind, how once with joy I went Into God's houſe; I, now confin'd, with grief the change lament.

Or Pſalm 113.

PSALM XLIII. St. David's Tune.

1. JUdge and revenge my cauſe, O Lord, on them that evil be:
From wicked and deceitful men,
O Lord, deliver me.

2. My God and ſtrength thou art, why doſt thou reject me ſo? [then
And why oppreſs'd with enemies,
do I thus mourning go?

3. Send out thy light and ſaving truth,
and lead me with thy grace.
Which may conduct me to thy hill,
and to thy dwelling-place.

4. Then ſhall I to God's Altar go, to celebrate his praiſe;
And on my harp give thanks to him
with gladneſs all my days.

Or the Hymn Benedicite.

PSALM LI. Southwell Tune.

1. HAVE mercy on me, Lord,
for thine abundant grace;
And for thy tender mercy ſake,
do thou my ſins efface.

2. Waſh me from mine offence, and cleanſe me from my faults;
For I confeſs my guilt, my ſin
is ever in my thoughts.

3. For thou doſt truth require in our moſt inward parts:
The ſecrets of thy wiſdom thou
ſhalt put into our hearts.

4. With hyſſop purge me, Lord;
and cleanſe me with thy fear.
Waſh me thoroughly, that I may whiter than ſnow appear.

5. Of joy and gladneſs make me hear the pleaſant voice;
That ſo the ſhatter'd bones which thou
haſt broken, may rejoice.

PSALM LI. continued. Jerſey Tune.

1. O Lord, conſider my diſtreſs, and on me ſoon ſome pity take:
My ſins efface, my faults redreſs,
for thy unbounded mercies ſake.
Waſh off my ſinful ſtain,
And cleanſe me once again.

2. Sorrow and deep remorſe conſtrain me to acknowledge mine exceſs;
Becauſe my ſin doth ſtill remain
before my face without redreſs.
I've ſinned in thy ſight,
But thou art juſt and right.

3. It is too manifeſt, O Lord, that I was ev'n conceiv'd in ſin;
In ſin my mother brought me forth,
and ſtill I have gone on therein.
O do thou me convert,
And make me pure of heart.

PSALM LI. Part II. Southwell Tune.

9. LORD, turn away thy face,
nor on my failings look:
But blot my ſins and my miſdeeds
out of thy ſacred book.

10. Lord, give me a clean heart,
and make my ſoul upright;
And let thy holy ſpirit ſo
preſerve me in thy ſight.

11. The comfort of thy help,
O give me once again;
And with thy gracious powerful hand,
my wandring ſteps reſtrain.

12. So ſhall I teach thy ways
To thoſe that ſinners be;
And my example ſhall convert the wicked unto thee.

PSALM LXVI. St. James's Tune.

1. LET all the earth in God rejoice, and praiſe his holy name:
Yea, let us all with heart and voice,
ſet forth his glorious fame.

2. Say unto God; in all thy works thou dreadful doſt appear;
Thy foes ſhall feel thy power ſo great,
their ſtubborn heart ſhall fear.

3. Let all that dwell throughout the earth
give praiſe unto our God;
And let the honour of his name:
be daily ſhewn abroad.

4. Come all ye people, and behold,
what things the Lord hath wrought; Mark well the wond'rous things that he
for us to paſs hath brought.

SUNDAY VII.

PSALM LXVII. Southwell Tune.

1. HAVE mercy on us, Lord,
and grant to us thy grace:
To ſhew to us do thou accord,
the brightneſs of thy face.

2. That thy moſt holy way
may to the earth be ſhown:
And that thy great ſalvation may
to all mankind be known.

3. Let all the world with fear
give praiſe unto thy name:
O let the people every where
all celebrate thy fame.

4. Throughout the world ſo wide,
let all expreſs their mirth:
For thou with truth and right doſt guide
the nations of the earth.

5. Let all the world with fear
give praiſe unto thy name:
O let the people every where
ſet forth thy glorious fame.

PSALM LXXI. St. Mary's Tune.

1. O Lord my God, in all diſtreſs
my hope is fix'd on thee:
Confound me not, leſt all my foes
ſhould triumph over me.

2. But of thy goodneſs help me, Lord,
and from all danger ſave:
Incline thine ear unto my pray'r,
and grant the aid I crave.

3. Be thou my rock to whom I may for ſafe defence reſort:
As thou haſt promis'd ſtill to be my caſtle and my fort.

4. Save me, O God, from wicked hands;
protect me from their pow'r:
From the unrighteous men, that me would cruelly devour.

PSALM LXXXIV. Rochel Tune.

1. HOW pleaſant is thy dwelling-place,
O Lord of Hoſts to me:
The tabernacles of thy grace,
how joyous, Lord, they be.
2. My ſoul doth daily long to go into thy bleſt abode;
My heart with zeal devout doth glow
for thee the living God.
3. The ſparrows find a room to reſt,
and ſave themſelves from wrong:
The ſwallow alſo hath a neſt
wherein to keep her young.
4. Theſe birds near to thine altar may have place to ſit and ſing:
O Lord of Hoſts, whom all obey,
thou art my God and king,
5. How bleſt are they that always dwell within thy holy mount;
Where they thy glory daily tell,
and thy great works recount.
6. Happy! thrice happy, are all they,
whoſe ſtrength and ſtay thou art;
Who to thine houſe do love the way,
and ſeek it in their heart.

PSALM LXXXIV. Part II. London Tune

9. O Lord of Hoſts incline thine ear, and hear us when we cry;
And, of thy mercy, on us caſt
a favourable eye.

10. For in thy courts one ſingle day
employ'd before thy face,
Is better than a thouſand ſpent
in any other place.

11. Much rather would I keep a door
within the houſe of God,
Than in the tents of wickedneſs
take up my whole abode.

12. For God the Lord, our great defence, his grace will to us give;
And no good thing will he with-hold
from them that purely live.

13. O Lord, how happy is that man, and highly bleſt is he,
That is determin'd all his days,
to place his truſt in thee.

Or Pſalm 148.

SUNDAY VIII.

PSALM XCII. Exeter Tune.

1. IT is a joyful thing to give thanks to the Lord moſt high;
And to ſing praiſe unto thy name,
O God, above the ſky.

2. To ſhew forth all thy wond'rous love
before the morning light;
And to declare thy gracious truth
and mercy every night.

3. Upon a ten-ſtring'd inſtrument, and harp with ſolemn ſound;
And on the well-tun'd pſaltery,
to make thy praiſe abound.

4. For thy amazing power, O Lord, ſuch things to paſs hath brought;
That none can worthily extol
the things which thou haſt wrought.

PSALM XCV. St. James's Tune.

1. O Come, let us lift up our voice,
and ſing unto the Lord;
His wond'rous works to all the world,
proclaim with one accord.

2. Let us with hymns of thanks and praiſe, draw near before his face;
And in our joyful pſalms ſet forth
the riches of his grace.

3. For God our Lord is God alone,
the great and mighty Lord:
The King ſupreme above all Gods,
through all the world ador'd.

DOXOLOGY.

To Father, Son, and Holy Ghoſt,
all glory be therefore:
As in beginning was, is now
and ſhall be evermore.

Or the Te Deum.

PSALM C. Savoy Tune.

1. ALL people that on earth do dwell,
sing to the Lord with chearful voice;
Serve him with fear, his praiſes tell;
come ye before him and rejoice.

2. The Lord, ye know, is God indeed, without our aid he did us make:
We are his flock, he doth us feed;
and for his ſheep he doth us take.

3. O enter then his gates with praiſe,
and let his courts with joy reſound:
Praiſe, thank, and bleſs our God always,
with glory let his name be crown'd.

4. For why? the Lord our God is good,
his mercy is for ever ſure:
His truth hath always firmly ſtood,
and ſhall from age to age endure.

PSALM CIII. York Tune.

1. MY ſoul give laud unto the Lord;
My tongue expreſs the ſame:
And all the powers of my mind,
for ever praiſe his name.

2. Give thanks to God for all his gifts;
do not ungrateful prove;
And ſuffer not thyſelf to be forgetful of his love.

3. Who gave thee pardon for thy faults,
and thee reſtor'd again,
From all diſeaſes of thy mind;
and heal'd thee of thy pain.

4. Who did redeem thy life from death,
from which thou couldſt not flee;
And long his tender mercies hath extended unto thee.

SUNDAY IX.

PSALM CIII. Part II. Windſor Tune.

8. THE Lord is kind and merciful, tho' ſinners do him grieve:
Moſt ſlow to be provok'd to wrath,
and readieſt to forgive.

9. He will not always chiding be for ev'ry fault he ſees:
Nor unrelenting anger ſhew,
to thoſe that him diſpleaſe.

10. For not according to our ſins doth he his wrath diſpenſe;
Nor deal with us as we deſerve,
for every known offence.

11. Behold how great the diſtance is 'twixt earth and heaven above:
So great his tender mercy is to thoſe that do him love.

PSALM CV. Norwich Tune.

1. GIVE praiſes unto God the Lord, and call upon his name:
Among the people every where declare his glorious fame.

2. Sing to the Lord with pſalms of joy, and celebrate his praiſe:
And to ſet forth his wondrous works,
your thankful voices raiſe.

3. In Honour of his holy Name
rejoice with one accord:
For ever let the hearts of them
rejoice, that ſeek the Lord.

4. Seek ye the Lord, and ſeek the ſtrength of his eternal might:
Seek ye his face continually,
in all the people's ſight.

5. The wond'rous works which he hath done retain within your heart:
Nor let the judgments of his mouth
out of your minds depart.

Or the Hymn Benedicite.

PSALM CXII. Jerſey Tune.

1. THE man is bleſt that feareth God;
and in his law doth pleaſure take:
His ſeed on earth ſhall mighty be,
And bleſſed for their father's ſake.
His piety ſhall crown
His children with renown.

2. Unto the juſt there ſhall ariſe
in trouble joy, in darkneſs light;
Becauſe compaſſion he doth ſhew,
and alway does that which is right.
With care and judgment he Directs his charity.

3. Such men ſhall never be forgot;
But ſhall be had in memory:
No accidents ſhall make them fear,
no dangers ſhake their conſtancy.
Their greateſt enemies
Thro' God they ſhall deſpiſe.

4. He who thus manages his wealth, and to the poor does freely give,
His piety ſhall ſtill remain;
Honour of God he ſhall receive.
Sinners ſhall grieve to ſee
His great proſperity.

PSALM CXIII. Stepney Tune.

1. YE people which do ſerve the Lord,
praiſe ye his name with one accord,
Yea, always bleſſed be the ſame:
2. And from the riſing of the Sun, unto its place of going down,
let All his noble acts proclaim.
3. The Lord all Beings doth ſurmount;
his Glory we may ever count,
above the Heavens high to be.
4. With God the Lord who may compare, whoſe dwellings in the Heavens are?
of ſuch great power and force is he.
5. He doth abaſe himſelf, we know,
to caſt his eyes on things below,
as well as in the Heavens above.
6. The poor out of the duſt to raiſe, and give the needy proſp'rous days,
his mercy only did him move.
7. That he might place them in degree,
with princes of high dignity,
who rule his people with great fame.
8. The barren he doth make to bear,
and with great joy bring forth an heir:
therefore praiſe ye his holy name.

Psalm CXVI. Rochel Tune.

1. I Love the Lord, becauſe he hath receiv'd my voice and pray'r:
And when in need I on him call'd,
he did incline his ear.
2. Ev'n when the cruel ſnares of death
cloſely beſet me round;
And when as ſeiz'd with pains of Hell,
I dreadful ſorrow found:
3. Upon the name of God moſt high then did I call, and ſay:
Deliver thou my ſoul, O Lord,
I thee moſt humbly pray.
4. Juſt is the Lord and merciful;
to wrath and anger ſlow:
And in our God compaſſion doth moſt plentifully flow.
5. The Lord in ſafety doth preſerve
all thoſe who upright be:
I was in great diſtreſs, yet ſtill
the Lord deliver'd me.
6. And now, my ſoul, ſince thou art ſafe, return unto thy reſt:
And love thy God, who unto thee
ſuch bounty hath expreſt.

SUNDAY X.

PSALM CXVII. St. David's Tune.

1. O All ye nations of the world,
bleſs ye the Lord always,
And all ye people ev'ry where,
ſet forth his noble praiſe.

2. For great his kindneſs to us is,
his truth is ſtill the ſame;
Wherefore praiſe ye the Lord our God,
praiſe ye his holy name.

DOXOLOGY.

To Father, Son, and Holy Ghoſt,
immortal Glory be:
As was, is now, and ſhall be ſtill
to all Eternity.

Or the Te Deum.

PSALM CXVIII. Part III. Exeter Tune.

21. I Will give thanks to thee, O Lord,
whoſe mercy I have ſeen;
For thou haſt heard my pray'r, & haſt
my great deliv'rance been.

22. The ſtone which in the ages paſt
the builders did deſpiſe;
Is now become the corner ſtone,
on which the whole relies.

23. This was the mighty work of God,
this was the Lord's own fact;
And it is wond'rous in all eyes,
which ſaw this noble act.

24. This is the joyful day indeed, which God himſelf hath wrought:
O let us all rejoice therein,
in word, in heart, in thought.

25. Help us, and proſper us, O Lord,
we pray continually:
Bleſſed is he that to us comes
In name of God moſt high.

PSALM CXIX. Rochel Tune.

1. BLeſſed are they that upright are,
and pure in mind and heart:
Who never in their words or deeds
From God's commands depart.

2. Bleſſed are they who ſet themſelves his ſtatutes to obſerve:
Seeking the Lord, with all their hearts,
and never from him ſwerve.

3. Doubtleſs ſuch men go not aſtray,
nor wickedneſs commit:
Who ſtedfaſtly walk in his way;
and wander not from it.

4. It is thy will and pleaſure, Lord, that with attentive heed,
Thy noble and divine commands
we keep in word and deed.

PSALM CXIX. Norwich Tune.

5. LORD, for thy mercy's ſake vouch-ſo to direct my ways, [ſafe
That I thy ſtatutes may obſerve
and follow, all my days.

6. So ſhall no ſhame my life attend,
whilſt thee, my God, I love:
And conſtantly employ my mind,
to thee myſelf t'approve.

7. Then will I praiſe with upright heart and magnify thy name;
When I thy righteous will have learnt,
and ſhall perform the ſame.

8. Then will I wholly bend my mind thy ſacred paths to trace:
Forſake me not; but ever, Lord,
ſhew me thy ſaving grace.

Or Pſalm 148.

S U N D A Y XI.

PSALM CXXV. Jerſey Tune.

1. SUCH as in God the Lord do truſt, ſhall as mount Sion firmly ſtand:
not to be mov'd by any hand:
The Lord will count them right and juſt,
ſo that they ſhall be ſure
for ever to endure.

2. As mighty mountains high and great,
Jeruſalem about do cloſe,
ſo will the Lord encompaſs thoſe,
Who on his righteous will do wait:
they are to him ſo dear,
that they need never fear.

3. For tho' he virtuous men may try.
and oft correct them with his rod,
leſt they ſhould turn aſide from God;
Yet ſhall not this their portion be.
Lord, grant to us thy light,
whoſe hearts are true and right.

4. But as for ſuch as turn aſide, to crooked ways which they have ſought,
the Lord will bring them ſoon to nought,
And they with ſinners ſhall abide:
but peace with Iſrael
for evermore ſhall dwell.

PSALM CXXVIII. St. Mary's Tune.

1. BLeſſed art thou that feareſt God,
and walkeſt in his ways:
For of thy labour thou ſhalt eat,
and proſper all thy days.

2. Thy wife ſhall like the fruitful vine with offspring fair be crown'd;
Thy children like the olive-plants,
thy table ſtand around.

3. Thus ſhall the man that feareth God bleſſed and happy be;
And ſhall behold Jeruſalem
in great proſperity.

4. Yea, he his children's children ſhall behold as they encreaſe:
And in his country ſhall enjoy
a long eſtabliſhed peace.

PSALM CXXXIII. Canterbury Tune.

1. OH! what a happy thing it is,
and joyful ſight to ſee:
Where brethren faſt together hold
the bond of unity.

2. It calls to mind the ſweet perfumes,
that noble ointment ſpread;
Which by the Lord's command was on Aaron's ſacred head. [pour'd

3. Which fell not on his head alone, but wet his beard, and flow'd Down thence upon th'attire he wore,
when in the Houſe of God.

4. And as the lower ground doth drink
the dew of Hermon Hill:
And Sion with his ſilver drops
the fields with fruit doth fill.

5. Ev'n ſo the Lord doth pour on them
his bleſſings manifold;
Whoſe hearts and minds, without all this bond of love do hold. [guile

PSALM CXXXIV. Southwell Tune.

1. BEhold and have regard,
ye ſervants of the Lord,
Who in his Houſe by night do watch:
praiſe him with one accord.

2. Lift up your hands on high,
unto his holy place:
Praiſe ye the Lord; his mercies with due thankfulneſs embrace.

3. For God the Lord, whoſe power
both earth and heav'n did frame;
Doth Sion bleſs, and will preſerve for evermore the ſame.

DOXOLOGY.

The Son and Holy Ghoſt,
with God the Father, One:
All Power and Glory do enjoy,
as they have ever done.

Or Pſalm 113.

SUNDAY XII.

PSALM CXXXVIII. St. David's Tune.

1. TO thee I'll lift my grateful heart, to thee my voice I'll raiſe;
Ev'n in the preſence of the gods
I will advance thy praiſe.

2. Towards thy holy Temple I will look and worſhip thee:
And always in my thankful mouth
thy Glorious Name ſhall be.

3. But chiefly for thy tender love and truth, I'll ſpread thy fame;
For by thy Word thou over all
haſt magnify'd thy Name.

4. Whene'er I call'd upon thee, Lord, thou anſwered'ſt my cry;
And of thy tender mercy didſt
my ſoul with ſtrength ſupply.

PSALM CXL. Windſor Tune.

4. KEep me, O Lord, from wicked hands, and cauſe me to abide Safe from the cruel man, that ſoon
would make my footſteps ſlide.

5. The proud have for me laid a ſnare,
and ſpread abroad their net:
And in the way that I ſhould go,
their traps for me have ſet.

6. But I will ſay unto the Lord,
thou art my God alone:
Hear me, O Lord, oh hear my voice:
To thee I make my moan.

7. O Lord my God, thou only art
the ſtrength that ſaveth me:
My head in day of battle hath been cover'd ſtill by thee.

PSALM CXLI. Martyr's Tune.

1. O Lord, upon thee do I call:
O, haſte to my ſupport;
And mercifully hear my voice,
when I to thee reſort.

2. As incenſe, let my prayer, O Lord,
be grateful in thine eyes:
And the up-lifting of my hands,
as th' evening ſacrifice.

3. And to this end do thou, O Lord,
my mouth from folly keep;
And ſo watch o'er my lips, that nought
amiſs from them may ſlip.

4. Incline my heart to hate all ſin
as long as life ſhall laſt:
That wicked workers I may ſhun,
and ne'er their pleaſures taſte.

PSALM CXLI. Part II. London Tune.

8. O LORD, my God, in my diſtreſs
I lift my eyes to thee;
In thee is all my Truſt, let not my ſoul forſaken be.

9. Preſerve me, Lord, from thoſe who have to take me laid their ſnare;
And from the ſecret traps of them
that wicked workers are.

10. As for the wicked, make thou them in their own nets to fall;
Whilſt by thy gracious help I 'ſcape
the danger of them all.

DOXOLOGY.

To Father, Son, and Holy Ghoſt,
immortal Glory be:
As was, is now, and ſhall be ſtill
to all Eternity.

Or the Te Deum.

SUNDAY XIII.

PSALM CXLIV. York Tune.

9. AWake, my harp, let us begin a ſong unto the Lord:
With muſic let us ſend it up to God with one accord.

10. For he, 'tis he alone, does give deliv'rance unto king's;
And to his ſervant David help
in midſt of danger brings.

11. From ſtrangers he has me preſerv'd,
whoſe mouth talks vanity;
And whoſe right hand, a right hand is of guile and ſubtilty.

DOXOLOGY.

To Father, Son, and Holy Ghoſt,
all Glory be therefore:
As in Beginning was, is now,
and ſhall be evermore.

Or Pſalm 100.

PSALM CLXV. Part I. St. James's Tune.

1. THee will I laud, my God and King,
and bleſs thy Name alway;
For ever will I praiſe thy Name,
and bleſs thee day by day.

2. Thou Lord, moſt worthy art of praiſe, thy greatneſs none can reach:
Therefore from age to age, let all thy praiſe and glory teach.

3. I of thy glorious Majeſty
the Honour will record,
And meditate upon thy works
moſt wonderful, O Lord.

4. And let all others with me join,
thy Glory to declare;
For I to publiſh thro' the world
thy goodneſs will not ſpare.

PSALM CXLV. Part II. Rochel Tune.

17. THE Lord is juſt in all his ways,
his works are holy all:
18. He's near to thoſe that call on him,
in truth that on him call.

19. He the requeſt of all ſuch men
as fear him will fulfill;
And when they cry, he will them hear;
will help and ſave them ſtill.

20. The Lord preſerves all thoſe that bear to him a faithful heart;
But as for wicked men, he them
will utterly ſubvert.

21. My thankful mouth with joy ſhall
the praiſes of the Lord: [ſpeak
And let all fleſh to praiſe his name, for evermore accord.

PSALM CXLVIII. Charenton Tune.

1. GIVE laud unto the Lord,
from heaven that is ſo high;
Praiſe him in deed and word
above the ſtarry ſky.

2. To him do ye
his angels all,
armies royal,
ſing chearfully,

3. Praiſe him, ye ſun and moon,
which ſhine with rays ſo bright;
The ſame of you be done,
ye glittering ſtars of night.

4. And you no leſs,
ye heavens fair,
and clouds of th' air
his laud expreſs.

Lamentation of a Sinner.

Martyr's Tune.

1. O LORD, turn not away thy face from him that proſtrate lies, Lamenting at thy mercy's gate
his ſins and miſeries.

2. The gate thou openeſt unto thoſe who hate and leave their ſin:
Shut not that gate againſt me, Lord,
but let me enter in.

3. And call me not to ſtrict account with ſcrutiny ſevere:
For then I know (with ſhame) O Lord,
how vile I ſhall appear.

4. I need not to confeſs my faults,
thou all my ſins doſt know:
Thou ſeeſt moſt perfectly both what I was, and what I'm now.

Te Deum. Savoy Tune.

O God, we praiſe thee, and we own
Thee to be Lord and King alone:
All the whole earth doth worſhip thee,
The Father from eternity.

To thee all angels loudly cry,
The heav'ns and all the pow'rs on high:
Cherubs and Seraphim proclaim,
And cry, thrice holy to thy name.

Lord God of hoſts, thy preſence bright Fills heav'n and earth with beauteous light.
Th' apoſtles glorious company,
The prophets fellowſhip, praiſe thee.

The crowned Martyrs noble hoſt,
The holy church in every coaſt,
Thine infinite perfections own,
Father of Majeſty unknown:

Giving all adoration
Unto thy true and only ſon,
And to the Holy Ghoſt from whom,
As the ſole ſpring, our comforts come.

The Hymn Benedicite. Savoy Tune.

O All ye works of God the Lord,
Magnify him with one record:
Ye ſun and moon, and ſtars ſo bright,
Which fill the heav'ns with chearful light:

Ye cattle which on earth do feed,
And fiſh that in the waters breed:
Ye fowls whom thro' the ſpacious air
Swift wings from place to place do bear.

Ye ſons of men with favour grac'd,
And o'er all earthly creatures plac'd:
Ye church of God, to whom his will
And ſacred laws he does reveal:

Ye ſouls of righteous men who live,
And in God's hand, death's ſtroke ſurvive:
Ye angels, who with glory crown'd,
Waiting commands, his throne ſurround.

In one great choir your voices raiſe,
To ſing our high Creator's praiſe:
O all ye works of God the Lord,
Magnify him with one accord.
